With the “Heli“ to the DIY store or hunting

Rameder has an innovative load barrow for anglers, hunters, campers...

On a Saturday morning in a DIY-store's car park: it is crowded, there are no shopping trolleys. What now? Carrying the bag of plaster, bucket of paint or potting compost by hand? Hunters do occasionally have the same problem. Obviously, dead animals can no longer walk to the car.... Rameder's answer to this problem is the “Heli”. You don't even have to load things in your car. “Heli” is a combined load barrow and car rear rack and thus the ideal solution for various applications on the job and in your free time. Europe's leading provider of towbars and transport solutions therefore has “Heli” now on offer at www.rameder.eu.

A “Heli” mounted on the towbar has a payload of 75kg, provided there is an appropriate vertical coupling load. Thanks to the integrated quick-release system it is mounted in no time. When you have reached your destination, the rear rack will be converted into an “off-road” load barrow in a jiffy.

“Heli” is made of hot-galvanised steel and easy to clean. The external dimensions (upright) are 80 cm x 68 cm x 180 cm, the basket is 100 cm x 50 cm x 12.5 cm. Anglers, hunters, campers, skippers, gardeners or DIY fans: the “Heli” will make you solve almost any transport problem – without having to buy a new estate.
