Additional Storage Space on Top

The rail roof rack Brio can turn any car roof into a storage area

Most station wagons, SUVs and other types of cars have roof rails, but the use of a roof box, roof storage rack or roof bicycle carriers still requires a suitable base support – such as Brio by Rameder, Europe's leading provider of transport solutions for the car. The highly modern rail roof rack is available at our online shop www.rameder.eu for the low price of EUR 69.99.

The Brio rack is suitable for vehicles with open roof rails with a maximum width of 104 cm (version 1) or 126 cm (version 2). A load of up to 90 kilogrammes can be securely fastened to the car roof. Smart shoppers and environmental proponents alike will be pleased with the minimal weight of the aluminium rack and the aerodynamic rack profile: Both factors minimise additional fuel consumption. The Brio rack can also be locked and secured against unwanted access. The search function in the online shop makes it easy for customers to determine whether Brio is suitable for their car. And if not: Rameder has countless other attractive solutions in stock. There's something for everyone!
