Rameder now with a branch in Finland - presented at the Autokorjaamo trade fair!

In Finland, up north, outside of the cities nature is unspoilt, the landscape vast horizon and towns and houses are scattered. No wonder, then, that towbars are so very popular here. After all, people have to transport boats, mobile deerstands, snowmobiles, small construction machinery, large pieces of sports equipment or accessories for the popular weekend bungalows out there. Rameder, Europe's largest provider of automotive transport accessories, therefore now runs its own Finnish branch and online shop, www.rameder.fi, selling not only towbars but also bike and ski carriers and various roof racks.

The rameder. Vetokoukku Suomi Oy branch is domiciled at Helsinki, Finland's capital. Incidentally, Vetokoukku means as much as towbar. To reach out to Finnish garages, the company will present itself at the aftermarket trade fair Autokorjaamo in Helsinki on 18 and 19 November 2016. Its 50 sq m booth, T50, can be found in Hall 7, where Rameder not only wants to present its own products and dealer support services but also acquire local workshop partners.
